Residential on 0.07 Acres

Parkdale, Calgary, Alberta

Located in Parkdale's sought-after Golden Triangle, 112 34A Street NW is a rare 3-storey semi-detached home offering nearly 4,000 sq ft of developed living space on a 30x120 lot, just steps from the Bow River.

Designed by Paul Lavoie Interior Design and built in 2018, this home features 5 bedrooms, 4.5 bathrooms, a private rooftop patio, and a full brick exterior that sets the tone before you even step inside.

Interior highlights include engineered white oak hardwood, solid-core doors, custom millwork, and a bright, open floor plan designed for real living. The chef's kitchen is anchored by an oversized island and outfitted with top-tier appliances: a Dacor 48" gas range top, Dacor double wall ovens, Dacor fridge and freezer, built-in microwave, dishwasher—all seamlessly integrated for a clean, elevated finish.

The primary suite features a spa-like ensuite with freestanding soaker tub, curbless shower, dual vanities, and a walk-in closet with built-in island. Upstairs also includes two additional large bedrooms, a spacious laundry room, and a well-appointed guest bath.

The third-floor loft is one of the home's standout spaces—featuring a private rooftop patio, full bathroom, fourth bedroom or office, and a built-in wet bar, making it an ideal lounge, workspace, or guest retreat.

The fully developed basement includes hydronic heated floors, a large rec room with wet bar, fifth bedroom, and full bathroom.

Additional upgrades include central air conditioning, a Honeywell security system, underground sprinklers, and a rough-in for solar. Built with attention to detail: staggered 2x6 party wall, Roxul insulation, and closed-cell spray foam roofing for superior sound control and energy performance.

Finished with a detached double garage, this is a rare opportunity in one of Calgary’s most desirable inner-city communities. Walkable to Foothills Hospital, U of C, Bow River paths, and parks and just minutes to downtown.
